Helping local people to support local people

In response to the coronavirus outbreak, the Council, in partnership with existing and new organisations and volunteer groups, has actively put in place ways to help the District's most vulnerable people by establishing Community Volunteer Hubs.

We are extremely grateful to the many community groups, parish and town councils and social media groups who have worked so hard to help establish the Hubs throughout the District.

There are now some 27 Hubs in place, organised and manned by volunteers, giving practical help, such as going for essential food shopping and medicines, and providing emotional support, with a friendly phone call for those who are self-isolating at home, amongst many other things.

Since they were set up in March over 10,000 queries have been dealt with.

As part of this initiative, the Council's Community team called all of its 2,500 Community Link and Health and Wellbeing customers to establish their needs and reassure them at this time and we continue to call them regularly.

Commenting on this response for local level support, Horsham District Council Leader Cllr Ray Dawe said:

"I wish to extend my sincere thanks to the literally hundreds of our residents and community groups who have come forward to give their time to both help set up Hubs in their local areas, and to volunteer to help vulnerable people at this time. My thanks go out too to the Council's Community teams who worked tirelessly to pull this vital initiative together logistically with so little time to do it in.

"It is a heartrending time for many who are isolated either for their own safety, or the safety of others, and it is therefore greatly reassuring that so many volunteers have given and continue to give such vital help.

"I would still urge you to come forward if you feel you can spare your time to get involved."

How you can help

Help is at hand for local businesses during coronavirus crisis

Throughout the outbreak the Council has been supporting local businesses in a variety of ways.

Funding where it is needed

We have supported thousands of local small businesses throughout the crisis, enabling them to benefit from business rate grant funds.

The grants were made available by the Government in response to the crisis but the application process and distribution of funds was managed by the Council.

Eligible small businesses in the Horsham District have received funds totalling some £25.9 million.

» Trading support for businesses

Throughout the pandemic the Council has adhered to government guidance and restrictions regarding the opening of and access to local retail outlets and businesses and will continue to support its local businesses based on this advice.

Our current focus is on supporting our businesses and enabling them to adapt to the changing economic environment.

We are running ongoing fortnightly surveys with local businesses to monitor impact and trends and provide appropriate support as needed.

How to trade differently

We have supported many traders in switching their distribution methods to online sales solutions such as takeaways, with click and collect and home delivery services.

We will continue to support the operation and development of www.essentialhorsham.online operated by Visit Horsham as a reliable online directory showcasing which businesses are open for trade, whether online or offline.

We are also introducing weekly interactive online business support sessions that will cover a range of topics, hosted by local business specialists. Topics planned include:

- Effective use of video and social media in the current environment
- Simple online order processing and payment options, and
- Re-opening your business safely.

Looking to the future

In preparation for post lockdown we are commissioning a new suite of photography of local attractions and businesses to ensure that we are well equipped to relaunch promotional campaigns for Discover Horsham District and local food and drink experiences and activities.

Nominate your favourite attractions for new Discover Awards

We will be launching a brand new Discover Horsham District awards scheme across a range of categories. As residents who know our businesses and attractions the best, you will be invited to nominate your favourites. Look out for more news of how you can get involved in local media soon.

We invite all businesses to keep us informed about their plans, so we can support them as required and help to publicise their initiatives. Please email us at businessdevelopment@horsham.gov.uk.

Improved recycling rates during coronavirus period

Horsham District residents have achieved much improved recycling rates for the month of March 2020, since the start of the coronavirus outbreak.

Additionally, the quality of the recycling collected has dramatically improved with no recycling loads being rejected for poor quality throughout March, meaning that everything residents have put in their blue-topped bins will be reprocessed into new items.

The Council extends its thanks to all residents who have increased their levels of recycling, despite the difficulties they are facing during these troubling times.

Horsham District already has a very good track record for recycling, so to build upon this is excellent.

These recent achievements come after the Horsham District achieved a recycling rate of 53.5% for 2019, exceeding the 50% target that was set for 2020 ahead of time.

These results maintain our position as the best performing district for recycling across the whole of West Sussex and one of the top performers in the UK.

Remember, recycling needs to be clean, dry and loose in your bin. For tips to recycle more, check out our website at www.horsham.gov.uk/thinkbeforeyouthrow.

Are you thinking about how you can do more with reducing your waste? Home composting is a great way to ensure that green and organic kitchen waste doesn't end up in landfill. For a subsidised home composter please visit www.wastepreventionwestsussex.co.uk/composting.

Got loads of garden waste now that summer is here?

Sign up for great value garden waste collections.

As our thoughts turn to sprucing up our gardens, why not join our annual garden waste collection scheme?

All you need to do is pop your bin out on collection day. The service operates fortnightly. At just £41 a year it represents great value for money and is the cheapest garden waste collection service in West Sussex. Additional bins can be requested from just £31 per extra bin.

To find out more or sign up for collections visit www.horsham.gov.uk/bins/garden-waste or call us on 01403 733144.

Just £41 a year!

Looking to dispose of your DIY rubbish?

Our new Bulky Bag could be the answer.

For that household rubbish that doesn't really need a skip, but is still too much to stick in the car and take to the tip, why not try our new Bulky Bag service?

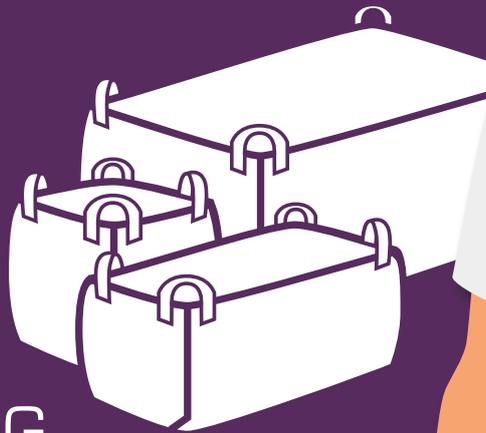

We can deliver you a Bulky Bag for all your refuse and pick it up within five working days when you are finished with it.

Perfect for house clearances, DIY home projects, garden waste, rubble and commercial waste.

Public show of thanks touches the hearts of our waste collection crews

A public outpouring of thanks for our collection crews, as they continue to do their vital work throughout the crisis, has touched the hearts of our team.

The Council wishes to thank local residents and businesses for the ongoing kindness they have shown to our crews as they complete their waste, recycling and green waste rounds across the district.

Crew members have received many posters, paintings, drawings, social media posts and cheery waves as they carry out their work and they really are very much appreciated.

Throughout the crisis, the Council's collections have continued without any disruption to service levels.

The Horsham District Local Plan 2019-2036

The Government requires all district councils throughout the country to produce a Local Plan to guide where housing development in their areas will go over a twenty year period. This has to be updated every five years. Horsham District Council is currently going through that revision process.

In February and March of this year, the Council published a draft of the revised Local Plan for public consultation. This document set out options of how the Council could meet the house build target set by Government. It also looked at other matters including biodiversity enhancements and more affordable housing.

Prior to the consultation, the Council's Leader, Cllr Ray Dawe, wrote to the Secretary of State responsible for housing seeking a review of what was considered an excessively high requirement for the numbers of new houses that the Council is expected to plan for. He queried why the use of yearly house-build target numbers of houses had seemingly replaced an ability to average them over several years to allow for short term differences in the rate of house building.

In the meantime, the Government announced the national lockdown in response to the Covid-19 pandemic. This has significant implications for everyone including Horsham District. The Council leadership believes it is important to ensure that the impacts of this pandemic are considered as part of the Local Plan process.

The Government has also responded to the letters from Cllr Dawe. In those they have stated that they expect Local Planning Authorities to continue to prepare Local Plans. There has been no change to the Government guidance that once a Local Plan reaches five years of age they are considered 'out of date'. This means that in November, when our current Local Plan reaches five years of age, our housing target will increase from 800 to an unprecedented 965 homes each year.

As a result, despite the challenges of Covid-19, it is very important that we continue to prepare our Local Plan as quickly as possible. Without a new Local Plan we could find ourselves finding refused housing applications being granted on appeal. This could result in unplanned development and limit the level of supporting infrastructure which can be provided.

The next steps

We received over 6,000 comments in response to our Local Plan consultation. Many of the comments received raised concerns about the amount of housing proposed, and about the environmental impact of any development. The need for existing and new development to be supported by enough new schools, health centres and road improvements was also a very common response. A summary of these findings and links to the detailed comments is available on our website: www.horsham.gov.uk/localplanreview.

The comments received are an important part of the Local Plan process and we are very grateful to all those who got involved. The findings of the consultation, alongside technical evidence-based work, will be taken into account as we prepare the final draft of the Local Plan, ready for further consultation (known as 'Regulation 19'). This document will set out updated policies. It will also set out the sites which the Council considers should be allocated for development. Not all of the sites, which were consulted on in the Draft Local Plan (Regulation 18) published in February, will be included. Only some of these will be allocated for development. Ultimately, it will be for a Government Inspector who, having seen what is proposed by the Council and heard any objections, to agree the content of the Local Plan.

For further information about the stages of Local Plan preparation and the currently proposed timescales for this to take place, visit our Local Plan web pages: www.horsham.gov.uk/localplanreview.

If you would like to stay informed about the Horsham District Local Plan and have not yet registered online you can do so on our website: www.horsham.gov.uk/localplanreview.

Unique new partnership to protect local wildlife

Many people will be aware that wildlife and the natural world is at risk, all across our planet. But here in our corner of South East England the same threats and challenges exist for our wildlife.

As a council, we recognise that though we may have wildlife jewels in our Horsham District crown, our natural environment is under threat, and that many species that were once familiar in the Horsham District are now rare or threatened. A new partnership, aims to reverse this decline, creating new habitats and networks for species in the District.

In early 2020, the Council forged an ambitious and exciting new five year partnership with the Sussex Wildlife Trust, to work with local people, landowners and community groups in the District to create networks for wildlife, helping local wildlife species and habitats thrive. This is the first project of its kind in the South East.

This new project is called ‘Wilder Horsham District’. Rather than just focusing on protected sites and species, the approach aims to ensure that wildlife throughout the District benefits and that it is able to move from one site to the next through a mosaic of habitats.

What action can be taken?

The work with residents, community groups and landowners will focus on:

- Hedgerows – in the Low Weald area to build connectivity between separated habitats
- Woodland – new planting and allowing natural regeneration to capture more carbon and help wildlife thrive
- Freshwater and floodplain habitats – improving water quality and flood resilience in the River Adur catchment area
- Ecological network – to be created by joining up key sites such as the Knepp Estate, woodland to the north east of Horsham town and The Mens in the west of the District
- Pollinating insects – reverse their decline by increasing the habitats for these species across the District.

None of this work can happen without the support of people throughout Horsham District, from landowners, to parish groups, or individuals, and we look forward to involving lots of residents in this work.

The proposed partnership supports the Council’s recently published Corporate Plan for 2019 to 2023, which sets out one of its major ambitions to prioritise the protection of our environment as we move to a carbon neutral future.

Chief Executive of Sussex Wildlife Trust Tor Lawrence said:

“Sussex Wildlife Trust is thrilled to be entering this partnership.

“We applaud the Council for recognising the current global ecological crisis and identifying that this really is a priority at a local level.”

Creating a greener District

We all have a part to play in tackling climate change.

Whether you are increasing your recycling, switching off more lights or repairing your clothes or tools, it all helps towards the bigger picture.

In June 2019 the Council committed to reducing its carbon footprint and started to work towards the national target of becoming carbon neutral as an organisation.

The good news is that we are making great progress to achieving these goals and taking better care of our environment, whilst reducing costs.

we did

We have now completed a comprehensive carbon audit which was undertaken with the Carbon Trust; nationally recognised experts in reducing carbon and saving energy for non-profit making organisations.

The key finding of the audit was that the total carbon footprint for the Council in 2018/19 was 18,035 tCO₂e.

The majority of this carbon footprint comes from:

- The goods and services that the Council buys from external suppliers
- Heating and lighting the buildings that we own but lease out to other organisations
- The fuel that is used to heat and power our buildings and run our vehicles.

We have already

- Improved the energy efficiency of our buildings – we have recently upgraded Horsham Museum & Art Gallery with a more energy efficient power supply and a digitally controlled heating system
- Built new Council developments to high environmental standards – our new Piries Place Car Park has won awards for its energy efficiency and includes electric vehicle charge points as well as a green wall
- Introduced some electric vehicles into our fleet and a more energy efficient fleet of waste collection vehicles
- Switched to a renewable energy tariff
- Increased biodiversity in our parks and green spaces; such as enhancing areas of heathland which is great at absorbing carbon.

we will

The Council has a solid track record in caring for the environment and reducing emissions. Now that we know where our carbon is being generated, we want to set a realistic target for when the Council will become carbon neutral. This will be backed by a measurable and costed action plan to achieve this. This is likely to include:

- Increasing the number of electric vehicles in our fleet
- Changing our buildings' heating supplies to all electric, as the national electricity grid is increasingly being powered by renewable and nuclear energy
- Improving the energy efficiency of our buildings, such as changing to LED lighting and increasing insulation
- Installing renewable technology.

If you have any queries about our carbon emissions work please email helen.peacock@horsham.gov.uk.

A fantastic donation marking the end of war in Europe

Timed perfectly for the VE Day commemorations, Horsham Museum & Art Gallery was delighted to receive the exceptionally generous donation of an original Constable sketch depicting a rural scene, including trees and a barn.

This remarkable donation has an extraordinary story that goes back 76 years to the middle of World War II and has special links to Horsham.

During the war leading museums and art galleries remained open including Agnews, the leading Old Master gallery in London. At this time, watercolours were seen as quintessentially English. And which artist represented Englishness better than any other? Constable of course. So it was, that in the months before D-Day, Agnews held their 71st exhibition featuring drawings taken from the Constable Sketchbook.

A leading watercolour artist and teacher Vincent Lines, The Head of Horsham School of Art, who had been employed as part of the Recording Britain project, bought the pencil sketch for five guineas at this time and brought it to his home in Horsham.

Today, some 76 years later, it is being donated by his family to Horsham Museum & Art Gallery and will feature in the forthcoming World War II exhibition.

We are immensely proud to receive this significant work as a wonderful addition to our watercolour collection. We look forward to the re-opening of the museum when people can come along and enjoy it.

Changing roles in response to crisis

Many members of the Council's staff have been redeployed from their usual responsibilities to help support critical roles during the coronavirus crisis.

Dozens of staff have helped to set up the Community Volunteer Hubs, manning phone lines and making calls to offer help and reassurance to thousands of vulnerable residents throughout the District.

Additionally, a number of staff have been redeployed to our frontline Customer Services team and to our Hop Oast depot to ensure the frequency and quality of our Waste and Recycling collection services to the public.

Many colleagues across the Council are now working from home and doing their best to deliver all our key services to support our residents and businesses in these challenging times.

Financial impact of coronavirus on the Council

Like so many of our residents and businesses, Horsham District Council has suffered financially from the COVID-19 lockdown.

As Horsham District lost all its grant funding from central Government over recent years and retains only 4% of the business rates and 8% of the Council Tax it collects, we have come to rely heavily on income we make from our properties, such as from rents and car parks. With shops closed and our businesses struggling, we gave rent relief to our tenants where it was right to do so. With so many residents working from home we opened our car parks for free. Like many other investors, returns on our financial investments have also fallen.

As a result of this we find we are currently losing around £750,000 a month in income. We are also paying out more on essential services needed at this time such as housing rough sleepers and running the Community Volunteer Hubs.

Our mid-range estimate of our losses this year is £6million, but it could be as much as £8million, or 70% of the money that funds our services.

Horsham District has received some funding from the Government to help, but it's currently only 25% of our expected losses.

A prudent council like us does have money saved for a rainy day and we will survive. But we will have to seriously consider the services we can afford next year, whilst continuing to support our communities with the services they need.

Paying for parking couldn't be easier

There are now more convenient ways to pay for your parking without having to use cash or cards.

Setting up a Horsham parking autopay account means you won't have to search out a pay and display machine or worry about having the right change. The online account is for use in our three ANPR multi-storey car parks, Pines Place, Swan Walk and Forum in Horsham. Sign up now at www.horsham.gov.uk/parking/autopay.

Additionally, you can choose to pay by using the RingGo smartphone app. RingGo is available in all our town centre pay and display car parks. The RingGo location numbers are listed on the maps on our website, as well as on the pay and display signs in our car parks.

For more details about RingGo please visit www.horsham.gov.uk/parking/horsham-town-centre-parking.

Helping those who are sleeping rough

It is always troubling to see anyone sleeping rough on our streets. What many of us don't realise is that the needs and circumstances surrounding those who sleep rough, either by choice or not, can be extremely varied and complex.

Thankfully our dedicated Homeless team have the experience to help with this highly specialised area and have put in place a number of services to directly help these vulnerable individuals.

Our team has developed a number of solutions to engage with rough sleepers in our District:

- We offer a homelessness advice service from 9am - 5pm every weekday. Due to the restrictions placed upon us during the Covid-19 lockdown, we have adapted our service to ensure it continues to run smoothly and we are speaking to those in need over the phone in the first instance in order to prevent and relieve homelessness.

Alternatively enquiries can be made online by visiting our dedicated web page and registering horsham.housingjigsaw.co.uk/accounts/account/register.

- We continue our partnership working with Turning Tides, Horsham Matters, Horsham Churches Together, our Neighbourhood Wardens and partners across the District helping those at risk of becoming homeless, with the aim of preventing homelessness in the first place.
- Our Homelessness Outreach Service (operated by Turning Tides) works tirelessly to locate, support and signpost those who are sleeping rough or are insecurely housed, providing a tailored service to those in need.

How you can best help rough sleepers

Many of our District's residents are really generous towards people who they believe to be homeless, however, it is important that this generosity is diverted to the most appropriate channels to ensure that any donations are used most effectively.

People wishing to support the homeless are urged to donate to charities rather than giving money directly to individuals, however tempting this may seem, as this assures those most in need receive the right help in the right way and it helps to break the cycle of homelessness.

If you are concerned about someone sleeping rough in England or Wales, you can highlight them using the StreetLink website: www.streetlink.org.uk. The details provided are sent to the Council's Homeless Outreach team to help us to locate the individual and connect them to support.

Private Landlord Services – we need your property

Do you own a property to let in the Horsham District or surrounding areas?

Would you benefit from:

- a no fee lettings service
- free tenancy support
- a consistent supply of suitable new tenants?

Horsham District Council recognises the significant role private sector landlords can play in meeting housing needs in the District, and as such we have a dedicated team to help get the best from your rental property.

To discuss letting your property with us call Nigel Powell on 01403 215225 or 07734 231018.

Alternatively you can email the team at horshampls@horsham.gov.uk.

Do you know someone who would benefit from our Community Link service?

What is Community Link?

Community Link is an award-winning service that helps residents across the Horsham District feel safe and independent, by providing them with a variety of technology enabled care products now known as TEC (Technology Enabled Care).

Service adapted due to coronavirus

Throughout the coronavirus crisis the Community Link service is continuing uninterrupted.

Our advisers have adapted their way of working to do initial assessments over the phone and they can still visit homes to install equipment, whilst observing social distancing and adhering to government guidance on PPE.

The products on offer

You may already know of the service's Lifeline unit and pendant (red button), but did you know the Community Link team can provide over 200 different technology-based products to meet a broad range of customer needs? Some of the popular products they offer are:

- Footprint – a location tracking device which can be carried by anyone including; those living with dementia, those with mobility impairments, walkers or lone workers. The device can summon help to their location.
- Falls detection sensor – there are a variety of different technologies that can be used for this, however all have the same goal, to automatically summon help should a fall occur, without the user pressing the button. Advisors can help assess the need for this equipment.

- Epilepsy Sensor – there are several technologies that can be provided, depending on what is most appropriate. The sensor alerts a nominated person that the user is having a seizure.

Community Link Services Manager Emma said:

“At this time, with so many people self-isolating as a result of coronavirus, it has never been more crucial to help keep our vulnerable residents safe, especially as so many are home alone.”

If you, or someone you know, could benefit from the Community Link service please call 01403 215230 or email community.link@horsham.gov.uk.

Journey to Work programme puts Sarah on road to success

Journey to Work has, over a six year period, helped hundreds of local people back into work.

The Council's Employment Support Development Officer, Lesley Beauvoisin, works with job seekers to renew their confidence, improve their employability skills and give them valuable work experience to get them into paid employment and on the road to work success.

In January of 2020, Sarah Champniss, who found herself unemployed after a company restructure, approached the Council about the Journey to Work programme, as despite going to lots of interviews, she was still struggling to secure a new job after six months.

Sarah picks up the story:

"I went along to the Job Centre in Horsham and met Richard Brook who manages the Council's successful job club – the Work Information and Support Hub (WISH). He was really supportive. As I was getting the interviews but not any job offers, I considered becoming self-employed and Richard organised me a place at the Pop-up Business School which is a week-long self-employment training course.

"I thoroughly enjoyed and benefitted from the course which covered areas such as sales and marketing, social media, tax and insurance and examining the actual business ideas people wanted to focus on.

"After completing the course we were all given a mentor for 12 months and we meet up as a support group every two weeks which is really useful to avoid feelings of isolation.

"I did feel that having a physical disability counted against me at job interviews.

"Then a part-time work experience opportunity came up at the Council in the Property and Facilities team which I took up. I am both building on previous skills and learning new skills which is great. I have also set up my own business which I run on a part-time basis.

"I think the Journey to Work programme is amazing and I would definitely recommend it. I had no idea there was so much valuable help available which is free to access via the Council."

If you are interested in trying out this programme, please ask your Job Centre Coach or contact the Council's Lesley Beauvoisin, Employment Support Development Officer, by calling 07917 594002, or email her at lesley.beauvoisin@horsham.gov.uk.

Many happy returns to Adopt-a-Street

No one likes the unsightly scene of litter. That's why some five years ago the Council launched a litter clearing initiative, encouraging residents to literally "adopt their street" and the Adopt-a-Street campaign was born.

We realised that we needed an army of volunteers to do their bit and help us to pick up the mess that was being dropped by others.

From a standing start in 2015 we now have an incredible 4,500 volunteers who regularly give up their time to litter pick and take extra care of their street or an area which they particularly value near them.

Still going strong

Back in the spring of 2015 we visited a couple of our very first volunteers Trish Hampton and Roger Smith from Storrington and we are delighted to say that they are still regularly litter picking today.

The success of the Adopt-a-Street scheme has seen many different volunteers come forward to help keep their communities clean and tidy from all walks of life: Scout groups, schoolchildren, retirees and young families.

The new kids on the block

One of our newest recruits is the Smith family from Horsham. Adam Smith, his wife Olgi and their two children Freya and Jacob joined up in early 2020. Here's what they have to say:

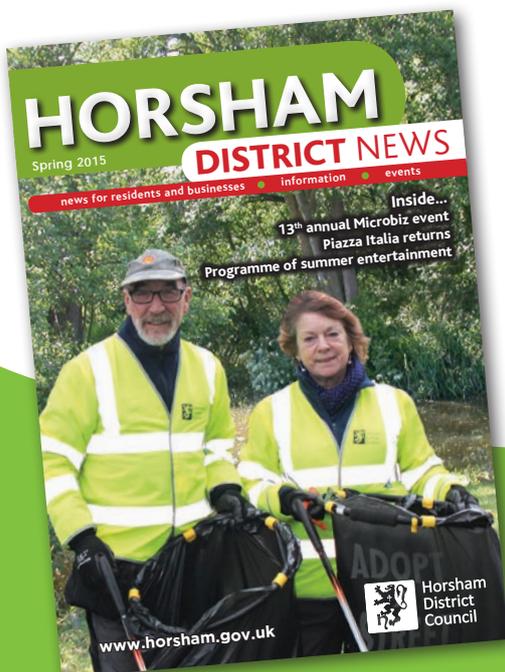

"When we welcomed our first family dog Ruby we all started going out for walks more.

"And that's when we realised just how much litter was being dropped and left around the woodland near our home. Initially we bought our own litter pickers and called the Council's Street Cleansing team to dispose of all the litter we collected – then we signed up and joined the Adopt-a-Street scheme.

"As a family we generally collect two large sacks of rubbish every outing. Our kids really enjoy it and won't go out without their litter pickers now!"

Freya said: "Litter picking saves wildlife from getting damaged."

Jacob added: "I like picking litter – it's like hide and seek with litter."

We would like to extend a very warm thank you to all our volunteers for the great work you continue to do – here's to the next five years!

Welcome to our new Chairman

Cllr Karen Burgess was elected as the new Chairman of Horsham District Council at an online Annual General Meeting on 20 May.

She takes over the position from Cllr Kate Rowbottom having performed the role of Vice Chairman for the past civic year. Cllr David Skipp was elected Vice Chairman for 2020/21.

Commenting on her appointment at the helm of the Council Cllr Burgess said:

“Thank you to my fellow Councillors for nominating and voting for me as Chairman of Horsham District Council for this year.

“I am deeply honoured to have been chosen for this role and feel I will be standing on the shoulders of giants, strong local politicians, especially the ladies who have all played a key part in making our District a wonderful place to live.

“This year the initial celebrations are somewhat muted as a result of the coronavirus outbreak, but rest assured that once the restrictions are lifted, I will look forward to representing the Council and meeting as many local people as possible at community events. In the meantime please do stay alert and avoid risking the spread of the virus.”

Play areas refreshed with foxes and forests

Two play areas in the District have had a fun and colourful refresh.

Foxholes in Rudgwick was transformed in March with exciting new play features inspired by the area’s name. New play equipment includes a springy fox and fox den multi-play unit which has a foxhole tunnel, climbing net and slide. A carved owl keeps watch over the play area, which also has inclusive equipment – a spinner and nest swing.

Further north in Horsham, a small play area in Wren Close has been given a rainforest-themed makeover. The site features a forest tree unit with slide, rock wall and large climbing frame inspired by a spider’s web.

A toucan keeps watch over a springy see-saw and forest nest swing, which is suitable for a wide range of children with different physical abilities. A large snake slithers on the ground between the play features and another tactile snake climbs into the forest.

At the time of going to print, our play areas are closed due to Government guidance. We look forward to opening them again soon.

Taking the democratic process online

One of the biggest challenges in Local Government when social distancing and lockdown measures were introduced was managing the democratic process safely and lawfully.

Public meetings, including Full Council, Cabinet and Planning Committee, take place regularly and it's our duty and legal obligation to ensure they are as accessible to the public as they would be normally.

The online conferencing solution that the Democratic Services team developed is working well. All meeting attendees sign in to the video-conferencing platform Zoom, and the meeting event is streamed live on the Council's YouTube channel.

- Meeting attendees are able to raise their hand to ask questions in the meeting
- Votes are done by asking each member in turn whether they agree or not, as they would be in person
- If a councillor has connectivity issues and misses a portion of the discussion about an issue, they are excluded from voting on that particular issue.

Democratic Services Manager David Penrose said: "It's great that the public are now able to watch our meetings live on the internet. While councillors are happy to attend the meetings from home, I think we all miss the traditional format of being in the same room together."

Visit www.youtube.com/horshamdc to watch Council meeting videos.

Elections postponed until 2021

Following government guidelines, all elections and referendums due to be held from April 2020 have been postponed to May 2021.

Elections Manager Claire Hawken commented:

"We are expecting the beginning of 2021 to be a very busy election period, as there could be many varieties of elections that have to take place then. Elections to take place so far include the Police and Crime Commissioner elections, County Council elections and neighbourhood referendums."

Of course this could all change again as the Government has indicated that the situation will be kept under review.

If deemed necessary, we could see social distancing measures introduced at polling stations. Voters may decide to register for postal or proxy votes rather than attend a polling station.

To apply for a postal or proxy vote, please visit our website, call 01403 215581 or email elections@horsham.gov.uk.
